- £4,600 for hospitalisation

Mithun's Story

In his 30's, married and a father of two, Mithun never expected life to throw him off track. For years, he had worked for his local NHS and A&E department as a nurse. He also volunteered as a special police constable in his spare time.

Every day he would commute to work on his motorbike ... that's until the day of a horrific accident, which resulted in him being air lifted to an intensive unit in hospital where he stayed for 47 days.

He's so thankful to his Adviser, Jijo Joseph, who sold the policy (2 units of MetLife MultiProtect). He received an £18,600 pay out.

“Money does come in handy. If I was financially strained I would have started thinking about rushing back into work without fully recovering.”
